

Aviation Related Award Information

The Westerly Airport Association annually awards financial aid to assist applicants pursuing an aviation or aero-space related career, such as flight crew, aircraft maintenance, aeronautical or astronautical engineering, airline or airport operations or who have demonstrated a commitment to advancing in an aviation-related pursuit. Applications are welcome from persons with a genuine interest in and realistic expectations for success in any of these endeavors.

Applicant must have permanent residence in New England, preferably southern Rhode Island or southeastern Connecticut.

- Applicant should have demonstrated a commitment to the chosen course of study or training, evidenced by related documented activities. These might include having already taken ground or flight training, passed FAA written exams, attended aviation camps, served in the Civil Air Patrol, or completed internships or work experience at airports or aviation-related businesses.
- Application should be accompanied by a one-page essay composed by the applicant. This essay should describe the candidate's qualifications for this award, including any previous primary or advanced aviation training or experiences. The essay should also include goals, plans and measureable outcomes.
- WAA Academic Scholarships are awarded based on motivation, character, financial need, the applicant's essay, and recommendation(s) of his/her supervisor(s), teacher, trainer or mentor(s). Any WAA Aviation Award recipient may apply for one renewal in subsequent years, based upon demonstrated success in his/her aviation related pursuit, along with recommendations of those overseeing his/her training/studies, as well as financial need.
- Application must be postmarked by August 31 to be considered for this year's awards.
